Tryout by the Track Team.

The final try-out for the University track team to be held on the varsity oval this afternoon promises to be one of the most interesting events of the kind that has taken place for several years. Dr. Steckle has succeeded in arousing an interest in, and enthusiasm for, track work heretofore unknown at the University, and it is confidently expected that in the events this afternoon, many of the long established varsity records will be broken.

The track, thanks to the untiring efforts of Coach Steckle and Manager Barker, is in better condition than ever before, and the time made will, without doubt, be proportionately faster.

Though nearly all of the contestants this year are new men, they have trained faithfully and their work has surpassed the best traditions of Nevada athletics. No one at the University will venture to predict the outcome of these events. It is certain that every one will be vigorously contested, "finches" this year being notably absent.

Among the closest races will be the quarter, half and mile runs. Several of the men, notably Heiser in the half, and Wolf in the quarter, have exhibited remarkable speed.

The records for the pole vault and hammer throw will undoubtedly be broken, as they have already been surpassed in practice. It is also expected that the broad jump and half mile run will be tied if not beaten.

The Reno High School will also hold its try out for the academic field day this afternoon, making it, altogether, the most interesting athletic event of the season.

Fourth Annual Ball Given by C. A. G. S.

Last evening the C. A. G. S. gave its fourth annual ball in the Babcock Memorial Building. This is a secret organization formed by a number of young men of this city.

It has had a successful existence and nearly all the charter members are still on the roll.

The hall was festively and artistically decorated for the occasion in the society and carnival colors.

Only members and invited guests, accompanied by their lady friends, were present.

A sumptuous repast was spread at midnight and dancing to the best of music continued until a late hour.

The Strike Is Still On

A meeting of the Building Trades Council was held last night. It is probable that the strike will become more general. As yet only a few contractors are effected. A number have agreed to the demands made by the workmen.

TONOPAH DAZZLES THE WORLD

The Camp and the Men Who Made It Famous.

(By C. D. Van Duzer.)

Not only has Tonopah made a record up to date without a parallel in mining history, but she promises to combine all the richness of Cripple Creek, the permanency of Butte and the output of the Comstock. The discovery and early development of Tonopah is matter of familiar history to Nevada people and with the closing of the leases last fall or at New Years, when the property became part and parcel of the Philadelphia syndicate and when over 80 men quit work and on New Years day twenty leasers figured up fortunes ranging from $10,000 to $500,000, there came a period of depression and uncertainty made more tragic by the epidemic which swept the camp, buried half a hundred miners and caused a panic which almost depopulated the camp.

Such has been the history up to early in the year 1902. When the leasers quit work the development of the camp was confined to the eight claims of the Tonopah group gouged and gutted with a view to ready output and quick returns.

At that time the greatest depth attained was something like 312 feet, the ledges varying from 4 to 11 feet along the Mizpah.

Of course the cessation of the leasers threw a large number of men out of employment and the dilatory and very uncertain operation of the Philadelphia Company, who never dreamed of the vast property they owned, gave a very depressing effect to the camp.

The teams stopped hauling ore and the leasers began to croak and the reports went forth that Tonopah was a one mine camp that her veins had no depth that the camp had seen its best days, that it was a blow out.

However the company began work and commenced to put down large compartment shafts. The leasers had out 40,000 tons of ore whose value conservatively estimated was $5,000,000 and they began to sort and ship.

January 1902 will always be remembered as the dark January in the camp's history, when men died like sheep in the shambles and all who had money or means fled as from a plague-stricken city. However those whose faith was strong and whose courage was of the sterner stuff that make men, remained in camp and gradually the change came and health conditions were restored and those who had fled in a panic returned. The company commenced to sink on the ledges which became wider and richer.

In the mean time the leasers and the pioneers of the camp commenced to turn their speculative instincts to the future. The veins which on the Tonopah property had cropped out for something like 1300 feet and then disappeared beneath a lava wash caused miners to wonder and it was known that at the east end and west end, where the veins last worked, that they were large strong and rich. So the ground within a mile was all taken up. Companies were organized, stock sold and with a sublime faith the prospecting propositions were taken up.

All along across the town and beyond the flat and gulch thousands of feet from the original veins shafts were started.

There are twenty-two well defined veins on the base of Mount Oddie, whose end lines have never been found and whose depth have never been tested beyond 300 feet.

There are at present about sixteen separate propositions in the town.

Outside properties sinking on the supposed line of the veins which from Mount Oddie spread out like the tail of a peacock and it is on the widening spray of these veins that the various shafts were put down. It was a theory, a simple theory and money was forthcoming. The shafts went down and at first they went through gravel and then lava and the wash and finally the Tonopah Fraction cut into the yellow porphyry, just like it is on the Tonopah hill, and then they came into a blue porphyry with veins of iron and copper and silver.

It was not long before they had struck around the Mizpah where it was richest and then came stringers of quartz and then came vein matter and suddenly when a shot was fired on the 1st it blew into a great vein. There was intense excitement because every body realized that the speculative theory was now a rich reality.

It is now four days since the vein was struck. They are into it eight feet. They are not through it. The assays run respectively $150, $180, $234, $475 and $500. The rock is a black and white quartz. Ruby silver in dull, red spots covers it and the rich black silver makes a beautiful contrast to the white quartz. The first excavations of the Comstock miners were here like the Con. Virginia it looks and how live the Crown Point.

The ore, to use a unique expression, is plutonic, that is it is the kind of ore that in depth goes to hell. This is Bob Gordon's expression in characterization of it.

Now this vein is supposed to be the Valley View and it is over a thousand feet from the last workings of the Valley View. The Tonopah Fraction was originally an overlooked piece of ground, not fully a mine claim. Harry Ramsey, Clay Peters and Jack Salasbery located it and commenced to sink. Uri B. Curtis, of Curtis, N. Y., with that Napoleonic courage of speculation which makes millionaires, bought it. There was nothing to indicate that there was anything there. He paid $5000 down and each of the owners took 16,000 shares a piece. The stock was peddled at 25 cents and 50 cents and went begging. Then came the strike and the stock flew to $2.00 a share.

Uri B. Curtis is the promoter and Philadelphia parties are the controlling owners. Kenneth Jackson is the legal advisor, Fred Mason, superintendent. The ore is being taken out in large quantities, sorted and piled up. The crowds gaze up at it and speculate upon the wonderful possibilities of the strike.

Just north is the Salt Lake Company, who own the Wandering Boy, and commenced to sink on an uncertainty. They are not saying much but at a depth of several hundred feet they caught the ledge and are taking out plenty of pay ore.

In the edge of town on the projected line of the Mizpah Joe Josephs and Clyde Jackson bought the McNamara claims and commenced to sink. These young men are energetic and live men of the camp. Associated with them are Henry Cutting and Clay Peters. They commenced a double compartment shaft. Their experience has been the same and they went through the lava ash and red porphyry and yellow porphyry and now in the blue porphyry they are sinking to fortunes. Standing on the McNamara property on its blue dump one can look east a mile and at the upper end of the Mizpah, where the company has put down a triple compartment shaft and where yesterday they run into a seven foot vein of $2000 ore, is another blue dump identical with that of the McNamara.

They are now down 180 feet, cutting quartz stringers, and it is a certainty that when they drift south they will cut the Mizpah and probably cut an immense body of ore.

Josephs and Jackson, as superintendent and manager, stand at the shaft running the whim working like trojans. Energy and faith characterize them and the entire camp watches the development and awaits with breathless interest the strike which will make Tonopah another Comstock and the boys millionaires. The entire camp wish them good fortune and will rejoice when they strike it, because they well deserve the fortunes that await them.

Between them and the Tonopah Fraction the west end is going down. Beyond the McNamara group the Ohio Tonopah, over one mile and a half away, has a blue porphyry dump.

In all directions surrounding the camp these shafts are going down. North of Tonopah Carl Young has a big property and associated with him are such men as Judge Slack of San Francisco and S. Prentice Smith. They are sinking and are on the line of the ledges.

The South Tonopah Company, away to the south, is showing up gold veins. So that today instead of a one man camp, instead of a vast blow out, we have four separate prospecting properties. There are in prospect 22 miles at work besides sorters, teamsters and the large number of men incident to work of a mining camp.

By the Fourth of July there will be over 400 men at work in the mines.

The history of this camp for the first year has been without equal in the chronicles of mining. Conservative estimates place the amount actually in sight at $15,000,000 with $5,000,000 out and the strike which has been made in the Tonopah Fraction brings it up easily to a total of $50,000,000 and the future of the camp will be second to if not equal to the Comstock.

This is a young man's camp. Young men's energy has made it and the fortunes are young men's fortunes. There is not on the coast today a crowd of young men of better brain energy, business ability and all around cleverness than can be found in Tonopah.

They come from Nome and from Cripple Creek. They come from Bakerville and Philadelphia. There is a large element in here who will control largely the destinies of the State. There is the nucleus here of a new group of banana millionaires.

Twenty years from now when the names of Flood, Sharon, Mackey, Fair and others connected with the Comstock, are the pleasing and reminiscent memories of that great camp, the world will be talking about the Lynches, the Cuttings, the Goldens, the Peters, Duffields, Jacksons and Oddie.

SOME TONOPAH FEATURES.

One of the striking features of the camp are the fortunes already made here in one short year.

The story of big hearted Jim Butler chasing a couple of burros toward Klondyke is a familiar one and his discovery of the Mizpah confirmed history. Butler was a poor man two years ago, but today he has a small fortune and property interests which will make him a millionaire. He has built fine business buildings and contributed largely to charity and is idolized by the people.

Henry Cutting came strolling into camp in the middle of winter with but two dollars and a half as he himself

Will Now Ballot for the Queen

Elsewhere in The Journal appears the official ballot for the Carnival Queen voting contest.

This ballot may be counted for as many votes as the sender indicates in the space at the left of the word votes, but each vote must be accompanied by five cents. As many votes as may be desired can be entered on the ballot for any one candidate, providing the cash accompanies the ballot at the rate of 5c for each.

The ballots will be counted for the first time on Wednesday next and every day thereafter.

Ballot boxes will be placed at Cann's, Hodgkinson's and McCullough's drug stores, and the Riverside and Palace hotels. Everything will be ready for voting this morning.

The lady receiving second highest vote will be the chief maid of honor, and it is suggested by the Queen Voting Committee that each of the secret societies put up a candidate for Queen.

Nate Roff Still Has His Sleeves Rolled up.

A misunderstanding seems to have occurred relative to the committees on music for the street carnival. At the last meeting of the general committee a report was obtained and printed in the papers to the effect that N. W. Roff had resigned from the committee on music in favor of Prof. Krall. The truth of the matter is that Mr. Roff has not resigned nor has he any intention of doing so, but on the contrary has girded up his loins and is doing everything possible to make the music and parade features of the carnival successful features.

What Mr. Roff really did was to request the formation of a special committee on vocal music and request the appointment of Prof. Krall as chairman. This was done and Nate has now been relieved of one of his duties and is devoting all his attention to the other work of his committee. Nate will be as much the head and front of the Reno as he was of the Carson and et al. A large measure of the success of the Reno carnival will be due to Mr. Roff's untiring and intelligent efforts.

Popular Entertainers.

One of the most popular features, and deservedly so, of the Kichapoo entertainments, is the series of moving pictures, presented each night. The subjects are of the most varied nature, and the perfection of their presentation is a revelation to the large audiences. Special pride is taken in the fact that the latest subjects both foreign and domestic are given and naturally no expense is spared. Among the pictures last night were the sensational train wreck, showing a head-on collision, a side-splitting comedy picture, "The Interrupted Courtship," and the beautiful Scriptural allegory, "The return of the prodigal son." An entire change of subjects is given each performance, and not one of the entertainments should be missed.

A white ribbon social was given last evening in the Congregational church. There was a large attendance and an excellent program was rendered. About thirty new members were received into the order. Delicious refreshments were served.

LAUGH WHILE YOU CAN.

THE Carson News devotes the major portion of a couple of columns to alleged criticism of the address of the Silver party and Democratic State Central committees. The News designates it a humorous document and professes to derive a whole lot of amusement from its contents. If our esteemed contemporary's profession is sincere and genuine we are glad that it experiences consolation of that kind, for it is certainly the only enjoyable sensation that the aforesaid compendium of official facts and figures will inspire or invoke in the system of Republican humanity in this battle-born State of Nevada. Nero is said to have fiddled while Rome was burning, so let the News laugh and grow fat while the regiment of its party here is consumed in the holocaust of next November, an insignificant figure of the main body which will go up in smoke in the general conflagration which will sweep from the face of the earth all but perhaps the spectre of the political organization which has passed from the control of the immortal Lincoln into the hands of the ungodly element represented in those latter days by the trusts, Mark Hanna, Bill Stewart and the Carson News.

Those who laugh last, laugh best.

A PROSPECTIVE REPUBLIC.

NOTWITHSTANDING our imperialistic performances in the Philippines and England's performances in South Africa, it appears that the idea of "government of the people, by the people and for the people" is still spreading. A new republic seems liable to be born at any moment in Belgium. The little kingdom is in turmoil, and out of the travail may come a representative government. Old Leopold was made king of Belgium in the first place by foreign governments, and if they keep their hands off the chances are that he will soon join the large, if not goodly company of royal vagabonds. The trouble grew out of the question of suffrage. The people are clamoring for manhood suffrage—one vote to the man—instead of the present arrangement whereby every man has one vote and some men have several, based upon the amount of property they possess. "Long live the Belgium republic."

IT should not be forgotten that the startling evidence of the conditions in the Philippines is none of it from anti-imperialist sources, although it evidently confirms what some anti-imperialists believed to be the fact, upon evidence that seemed to them reliable, although it made little impression upon the authorities at Washington. Now they are obliged to be interested and compelled to act.

A PRESIDENTIAL boom has been started for Hogg of Texas. Hogg is a true blue Democrat and an able and honest man, but his nomination is out of the question. His name would furnish more campaign material for the opposition than a record as steady as Mark Hanna's. The Chicago Record-Herald has already suggested as a motto for his supporters, "In Hogg Signo Vincas."

ACCORDING to the Carson News no political convention is justified in protesting against the acts of an administration, because the head of it might die, and it is cruel and cowardly to speak ill of the dead. Such at least is the natural inference drawn from the News' severe remarks concerning the anti-administration clauses in the State platforms of the Democratic and Silver parties in 1900.

IN the Senate, where the Republicans have a majority of nearly two to one, it remains to be seen whether the Republicans who were so ready to adopt a resolution to Cuba, at the expense of the best sugar industry, will be ready to offer a similar relief when a serious crisis in the sugar industry of the State occurs.

NEW YORK'S state finance commission, which buys about $250,000 worth of beer every year for the institutions of that State, has decided to buy beer on the spot in Canada, slaughter the cattle and bring in the dressed beef rather than submit to the extortions of the local beer trust.

THE Nicaragua canal bill has passed the house but still remains on the calendar of the senate. While a few months ago there was a great clamor for its passage, nothing is now heard about it. Has public interest in the matter died out or have the people got the idea that the bill has become a law?

TWO rival lecture bureaus are wrangling over Miss Stone and have summoned her into court. Thus the returned missionary gets a whole lot of fresh advertising, though to give her her due there is no indication that she has sought that kind of notoriety.

THE brief biographical sketch of Representative Hogg in yesterday's Journal was taken from Forestry and Irrigation, and should have been credited to that paper.

Tonopah Dazzles Mining World

acknowledges. Henry was reared in the school of adversity in Nevada and fortune came to him unexpectedly and he got a lease. Cutting is worth $250,000. He has a fortune on his lease. He owns a store, is in a bank, is largely interested in various mining propositions and, if the camp develops, Cutting is easily a millionaire.

Another good fortune belongs to Tom Lynch. Tom was born in Pioche, where he was raised and where he spent most of his life until he accidentally came to Tonopah and, being a young mining man and grasping the great opportunity, bonded at one time the Tonopah group and begged on his knees for friends to take it up and they did not and the bond lapsed. Tom was broke when he came here. He got a lease with Sullivan and O'Meara. Lynch is today worth $150,000. The three partners took out half a million. This is not all. Tom went to Philadelphia and a few weeks ago came smiling into camp greeting his friends with the warm way he has and the next day he was up on the Mizpah hiring men. He had secured a contract to sink his old lease shaft 500 feet, paying a royalty of 40 per cent with all the ore 70 feet each way.

When we remember that at the bottom of his lease he left 11 feet of $1000 ore it is easy to compute his future. If the ore chute goes down. He has now 30 men at work. Has bought large machinery, will run his shaft 500 feet and in 60 days be employing 150 men and in a year will be reckoned among the first of Tonopah's millionaires. Tom is a prince of good fellows and is but twenty-six years old. T. L. Oddie came from New Jersey. He originally came out in the employ of Stokes and then became identified with Nye county and was elected District Attorney. He lost all he had in mining ventures and, living on the princely salary of $50 a month as district attorney, he was, in the language of the exchange, dead up against fate, but along came fortune distributing her Tonopah favors and for assisting in getting an assay and other work for Mr. Butler he gained a share of the mine. The result was that the mine of T. L. Oddie, yet a boy in appearance but a man in executive ability and experience, has been rapid. He is now superintendent of the company's mines. He is a large shareholder in the company. He is in all the various properties around here. He is listed at $100,000 and if the camp turns out half what he expected of it he will be one of the Tonopah bonanza kings.

Clay Peters came in and he is not ashamed of it if he was like a good many of the boys busted. He sold at one time Examiners on the Klondike at a dollar apiece. Dame Fortune gave him an arctic frost up north. He came to the warm and sunny deserts of Nevada and bought Tonopah stock at a dollar and sold at $4.00, was a third owner in the Tonopah Fraction. He is a promoter of the Tonopah Consolidated, had a paying lease, is Justice of the Peace, a generally well liked fellow with great strength of character and large business capacity. He has a handsome bank account and is a controlling factor in Tonopah's development.

Frank Golden, the Napoleon of Nevada speculators, came down here and with faith which makes men successful kept at his lease even after he was losing money and finally he struck it and Frank today has made a million fortune in Tonopah. He deserves it. He has been a good man for the town a good friend of labor and a booster and a good fellow and it is presumed that in his business interests he has with his lease cleaned up a quarter of a million.

W. J. Sinclair is another of the boys whom fortune has favored with a pile for a rainy day. He is associated with Golden in a lease.

The Brouthers, who have been long identified with the camp and they have over $250,000 to their credit, and are interested in enough propositions to make them millionaires.

George Wingfield, of Golconda, the best known and most popular sport in the city whose word is his bond, and whose business rating is excellent, has accumulated $25,000 and his friends revere him. Harry Ramsey is $40,000 to the good. Tom Kendall dropped in and is now worth a cool $25,000.

Popular Bob Stewart of Bodaville is among the fortunate ones favored by Tonopah's goodness.

Among the later arrivals, who have become identified with the camp and are in a fair way to add to their start in life, is a Carson boy.

Dr. Leonard E. Ellis, a skillful physician and a mine promoter with a barrel of money back of him. Dr. Ellis is one of the boys, well liked and popular, a good doctor and a keen business man. He will be, if the camp floats along on its present road to prosperity, one of the members of the millionaire club.

Joe Josephs and Clyde Jackson, the latter the son of Dave Jackson, the well-known mining man, have put their money and energy into the Tonopah Consolidated and there is no doubt but that when they strike it they will both be millionaires. They have the best thing in the camp. They are all but into one. The strike if they make it means 20,000 people for this camp.

Jack Salsberry, chasing after the goddess of fortune, finally managed to get her smiles in Tonopah and she paused long enough to give him the proper hunch and Jack Salsberry is ranked among the coming millionaire's club. He has made $50,000 and came in with the shoe string brigade.

Kenneth Jackson, another of Tonopah's leading young men, a southern boy with a strong inclination for politics, a man who achieved a reputation and made a record at Nome, is among one of Nevada's new history makers. Judge Kenneth Jackson has opened up an office in connection with Key Pitman of Nome and they are today among the leading attorneys of this section of Nevada. Kenneth Jackson represented the big Swedish syndicate at Nome. Judge Jackson has large backing and represents eastern people. Key Pitman, a brash and forceful lawyer and keen promoter, with whom he is associated, handled all the big litigation at Nome and was among the leading attorneys there, being for a time city attorney of Nome. He is a keen lawyer and when identified with the State will rank as among her best lawyers, and will be on account of his well-known oratorical ability a prominent factor in politics.

Humboldt Gates, a Nome millionaire, is investing heavily in Tonopah mines. He forms another of the younger cortege here.

W. J. Curtis, whose fortunate transaction in the Tonopah Fraction has made him half a millionaire, is a young man of good address and popular among his associates.

One could run through the lists here and name over 100 men who have made from $10,000 to half a million dollars. It has been a camp of great opportunity. It is a camp of still greater opportunity. The newspaper fraternity has not been behind in the race for wealth. Billy Booth says he walked in about a year ago. He is rated by his own estimate at $20,000 today. His paper, the Bonanza, has the largest circulation of any weekly paper in the State and he has been an exceedingly strong factor in building up the camp. He pays his printers four dollars a day. He is a newspaper man, and a man who says Nevada is the best State in the Union and emphasizes that opinion by backing it up with newspaper ability and talk. If the papers of the State would follow Billy Booth there would be a better spirit and a larger community of interest in the State's upbuilding.

One year ago lots sold for $50 that cannot be bought for $2500. There are even hundred buildings here and a population of 2000.

There are 212 men at work in the mines and 400 hundred at work in the camp. There will be 600 men at work in three months. It is no place for a large overplus in the labor market but a gradually a large number of men will be put at work. In one year it is quite likely that over 1000 men will be steadily employed and there will be five thousand people here and the cap will have an outflow of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 dollars.

It is a wonderful camp and will bring Nevada to the front rapidly. Nevada with only one spot in the world, only one nation, or State outranking her in production and that California. Even South Africa, Australia and South America cannot approach her.

Nevada, the mining State with a black eye, a State with a bullion record of $1,389,000,000 taken from eight isolated localities, with the rest of the State unprospected and undeveloped. With Tonopah today with a future as great as the Comstock and within 28 miles of the Silver Peak mines, acknowledged to be the greatest in the world outside of the Rand in South Africa. Nevada ridiculed by the east, mistrusted by her own people, vainly struggling for position and recognition presents one of the most wonderful and pathetic pictures of State building in history. She is destined to be the great bullion-producing State in the Union within ten years. Tonopah is the one particular star in her shining firmament which is drawing the attention, exciting the wonder and compelling the avarice of mankind.

Another Side to Tonopah Difficulty.

Doc O'Toole, formerly president of the Tonopah Miners' Union, is spending a few days in this city. From his version of the difficulty that prevailed there a week or two ago in union circles it appears that Mr. O'Toole is not deserving of the hard things that have been said and printed against him.

It seems that the union voted to adopt certain rules, in the enforcement of which Mr. O'Toole brought down upon his devoted head the enmity of the mine owners and received only a quasi support from the members of the union.

Another Hotel for Reno.

Alf Chantz was down from Carson yesterday representing Mrs. Catherine Donaghy of Virginia in her purchase of the Convent building and ground on Fourth street. The purchase price was agreed upon as $11,500. The purchaser will convert this building into a modern hotel with electric elevator and all other improvements.

The daily Journal is on sale at Harry Davis' Model store.
